Lusty EMS trailers now Available in WA

Major West Australian trailer supplier, Roadwest Transport Equipment & Sales P/L (Roadwest) has now been appointed by Lusty EMS as its Western Australian dealer for its range of high quality trailers. The arrangement, which commenced on 1 July, expands Lusty EMS' sales, service and parts distribution network beyond its traditional east coast markets to provide a national network.

The Lusty EMS range is renowned for high quality manufacturing standards and durability across its range of aluminium tipper trailers, semi tippers, dogs and rigid body tippers as well as moving floor trailers. The trailers are a proven force in bulk haulage, delivering profits to their operators through their combination of high payload and excellent durability.

As well as selling the new range, Roadwest will also provide back-up and after sales support to the Lusty EMS trailer range from its established service, parts and repair operation at Beechboro Road, Bayswater.

The Roadwest dealership, guided by its founding Lombardi family, has grown from humble beginnings in 1970 to become Western Australia's premier trailer company, manufacturing its own steel tippers and specialty trailers to sell alongside the Freightler and Maxi-CUBE product ranges that it also sells

The Company's relationship with MaxiTRANS extends back 20 years, when GJ&M Lombardi were first appointed as dealers for the leading Freightler trailer brand.

The new Lusty EMS range will compliment the dealership's trailer offering and allow it to supply the West Australian market with trailers that are designed for bulk haulage applications suited to the grain, mining, refuse and construction industries.

The new dealer appointment will introduce a unique tipping innovation to West Australian operators, in the form of the patented Lusty EMS Stag tipper combinations – a B-Double tipper set that allows operators to tip both front and rear trailers without unhitching. The shorter turnaround times gained from the new Stag design has been hailed by bulk haulage operators for delivering new efficiencies to their businesses, with some Stag owners claiming up to 20% more loads delivered per day on short haulage trips.
